Resolute

Reputation matters. What are you known for? As followers of Jesus, there are certain characteristics for which we should be known. Today, as we continue in our Resolute series, we dig into the characteristic which rises above the rest.

Love

Keep Loving One Another Earnestly (1 Peter 4:8)

What Does Love Require?

Comfort

God comforts us (2 Cor. 1:4)

What loss have you failed to grieve?

So we may comfort others (2 Cor. 1:4)

What Helps?

What Hurts?

“By this all people will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.” - John 13:35

WELCOME! Thanks for joining us today!

We hope you find friendly people, an inspiring service, and real-life issues discussed from the Bible in ways you can understand and apply. If you're a guest, we'd love to meet you at the Welcome Gathering (near east lobby entrance, immediately following the service). Let us know if we can serve you. We hope to see you again!

Next Week:

MYTHBUSTERS

Is everything you believe about God and the Bible true?

Has a friend, Sunday-school teacher, devotional, social-media post or even a sermon introduced you to assumptions or truisms which may be false? At first, these myths seem plausible and even reputable. They can take on a life of their own and are difficult to refute. But if believed, the consequences can be devastating. Let's rightly handle the Word of truth so we may have certainty about what we believe. Join us as we BUST the most widely disseminated myths of the day—our faith just may depend on it.
