

At the Cross

1 Corinthians 15:3-5, 14-19 (p. 961)

After Peter denied Jesus around a charcoal fire, he wept bitterly because of his sin, shame and guilt. As a result, there is no record of him at the cross with the others when Jesus died. Was this the end of Peter's story? Would his sin define him the rest of his life? Do our hurts, pains and failures define us? Let's look together at how the resurrection of Jesus can change everyone's story.

Peter's Story (Luke 22:60-62)

At his best

At his worst

Jesus' Story (1 Corinthians 15:3-5)

Died

Buried

Raised

Appeared

Our Story (1 Peter 1:3-9)

His great mercy

Born again to a living hope

Inexpressible joy